Duties: Serves on engine or handcrews performing duties in fire prevention and suppression. Performs prescribed burning crew duties in order to reduce fuel hazards and disease, while protecting wildlife. Lays or directs hose in the use of water. Moves dirt, chops brush, and fells small trees to build fireline using various hand tools such as axes, shovels, Pulaskis, and McLeods to control spreading wildland fire and/or to prepare lines prior to controlled burning. Chops, carries, and piles logging slash. Searches out and extinguishes burning materials by moving dirt, applying water by hose or backpack pump. Patrols fireline to locate and extinguish sparks, flare-ups, and hot spots that may threaten loss of control of the fire. Cleans, reconditions, and stores simple fire tools and equipment.

Employees will perform basic duties in support of fire, timber, silviculture, recreation, wilderness, or research programs, projects, or activities. These positions are primary fire positions and taking and passing the Work Capacity Test (WCT) at the arduous level is a condition of employment. The arduous WCT consists of a three mile hike, within forty-five minutes, while carrying a forty-five pound pack. Applicants must be at least 18 years old and possess a valid State Driver's License.

HOW TO APPLY:

A little bit about announcement numbers: Announcement numbers are specific alpha-numeric links to the job for which you're applying. An example of an announcement number is: 15-TEMP-R40462-4-FS-DT-PM. You can use an announcement number to search for jobs in USA Jobs, but they do have to be EXACT, so searching keywords or series will give you more comprehensive search results. Once you log into USA Jobs look for positions by entering the "series" (0462 for fire and 3502 for camp crew seasonal jobs) or "job title" (DISPATCHER, HELITACK, SUPPRESSION, FUELS, LABOR-ER) in the Keyword Box. You can use "refine your results" on the left side of the page and choose "Agency" (Dept. of Agriculture), "Grade" (3 for entry level), and "Work Type" (Temporary=seasonal). The results will show multiple positions. Either look under or click on the job title to view the specifics of that position. The most critical descriptors will be the series/grade & job announcement number. Contact the hiring manager to confirm announcement numbers.

About the Forest

The Salmon-Challis National Forest covers over 4.3 million acres in east-central Idaho. The Forest is bordered by the Bitterroot Range of the North Central Rockies on the east, and to the west includes over 1.3 million acres of the Frank Church--River of No Return Wilderness. Rugged and remote, this country offers adventure, solitude and breathtaking scenery. The Forest also contains Mt. Borah, Idaho's tallest peak and the Wild & Scenic Salmon River and the Middle Fork of the Salmon River. The area is a highly desired destination for hunting, fishing, white-water rafting and the many other popular recreational pursuits. The Forest features diverse, rough topography, geologic conditions, and miles of streams with anadromous fish spawning habitat creating a highly complex land management situation. The Forest Office is located in Salmon, Idaho. There are currently seven administrative units on the Forest: Salmon-Cobalt, Challis, Yankee Fork, Lost River, Middle Fork, North Fork and Leadore Ranger Districts. For more information on the Forest or Districts, visit the website -

Recreation for Mackay and Challis Areas: The Salmon River and the Middle Fork of the Salmon River, federally protected as Wild and Scenic Rivers, are renowned for white-water rafting, kayaking, floating and jet boating. Outfitter and guide services are offered and both Mackay and Challis and Challis serve as gateways to the Frank Church-River of No Return Wilderness, encompassing 2.4 million acres, the largest wilderness in the United States outside of Alaska. The primitive mountain area provides spectacular and abundant hunting (white-tailed and mule deer, elk, bighorn sheep, mountain goats, bear, moose, and cougar). Many species of game birds and also waterfowl can be found. Fishing (trout and steelhead) is open virtually all year. Miles of groomed trails and routes are prepared for cross-country skiing and snowmobiling while down-hill skiing, ice fishing and other winter fun can be enjoyed nearby. Challis and Mackay are both close to the world-famed Sun Valley Ski Resort. Mackay and Challis offer hiking and wilderness walks, camping and picnicking, rock hounding, prospecting, bird watching, photography, hot springs, back-country air tours, guest ranches, mining ghost towns and museums, all adding to the immense opportunity for pleasure and adventure to be had by avid sportsmen and casual outdoor enthusiasts alike.

Leadore Ranger District

Leadore is a remote District on the Salmon-Challis National Forest of central Idaho. The surrounding area is extremely mountainous and sparsely populated. Outdoor recreational opportunities are virtually endless. The community of Leadore sits at 5980 feet with a population of approximately 90 people. Originally built as a mining town, ranching and the local Forest Service are what now support the economy. The closest full service community is Salmon, located 45 miles to the north. Government housing is available on the compound. For more information, visit <http://leadorechamber.com/>.

Idaho

The territory of Idaho was established in 1863 and became the nation's 43rd State in 1890. It has topography of incredible diversity including lava fields and 1.5 billion year-old rock cliffs. Within Idaho's 83,000 square miles are more than 200 mountain peaks of 8,000 feet or higher, as well as North America's deepest gorge, Hells Canyon. It is the most heavily forested of the Rocky Mountain States and its name, "Gem State," is derived from the fact that more than 80 varieties of gemstones are found within its borders. The low cost of living and the high quality of uncrowded serenity and beauty make everyday life in Idaho something to be treasured.
